>Hubbadubba 1:34
>Suck suck baby suck chop foreskin chomp chomp suck baby yum blood

>Malakka Klakka 19:10-20
>And he who does not sniff Jewish foreskin and pretend it has magic powers will be cursed with anal warts

>Shekels 4:22
>And the Jew god said "I'm a fucking Jew you retarded goyim and I hate you." But the goyim worshiped him anyway, to our Chosen Tribe's benefit

They use methods like remote viewing and channeling to receive the info but in return obey their masters by bringing them child sacrifices and via rituals they transfer the energy they suck in, some of it via crystals that collect the negative emotions that torture, rape and murder cause, other they transfer the energy and receive material wealth and biological youth in return.

Aldebaran Star Empire just glassed Zeta Reticuli Ascendancy over a resource dispute on Alpha Centauri for possession of the Maker's artifacts.

Over 4 billion wiped out in an instant. In response the Zeta colonies have declared war and joined into a federation in vengeance for the homeworld calling in allies across two galactic sectors.
Massive battles stretching millions of miles are being waged and entire solar systems are on fire.

The Pleiades Technocracy is also heading to the Sol system that houses the planet of Terra intending to absorb the primitives into their union now that the Aldebarans and Zeta's are distracted by genocidal war.

The Galactic Council has called an emergency session of the permanent 22 civilisation members and called for the inclusion of the 48 observer members to join in the meeting for the first time. This will be the first major crisis since the awakening of the wormhole 400 years ago!

No, because it doesn't have a functioning core and therefore no magnetosphere. Solar winds would remove any atmosphere and you'd end up with more extra chromosomes than you've already got from all the solar radiation.

Then realize you can tell the state of advancement of any star system based on where they are in the cycle.
So now you can travel interstellar with ether-driven saucers, you can "time-travel" to various stages of civilization advancement, depending on what clock position the system's star is in.
Show up early, with more advanced tech, and you can rule that planet as gods.

Well Moon mining is now confirmed as official policy and we know the resources there can be used to build whatever is needed and ship supplies back to Earth as new fuel sources. Reusable rockets have become a game changer for all this.

So we'll be seeing the first exploitation in the late 2020's as part of the Gateway station in orbit of Luna by 2024 and have been dropping modular buildings off on the surface for over 3 years in secret ready for construction. They intend to use the moon base to be the crashers for pure water supplies(robot alien area).
Private billionaires also created the asteroid mining companies ahead of time and have been working on that for almost 7 years now.

We really are in a new space race a weird hybrid of private interests and national interests. Just a matter of time before the big reveal of a new propulsion engine happens. The X-37 is rumoured to have one onboard and the secret missions its been running for the USAF in space have been distance tests and durability for long term space travel.

Nah i too always thought that Venus is the best planet, especially the closer we get to the Singularity.
If all the dangerous elements can be dealt with it's the most natural choice.
Mars is unstable and will certainly lose all atmosphere again in time.
The only problem with Venus is we don't know exactly what's going on under the clouds and we need more data first.

If every race wants humanity dead, then they are as the Fallen Ones. Always redemption before death. Humans can still be saved in Salvation.
